

November 24, 2025

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Stellar Storage Containers and Storco Announce Exclusive Partnership Across Australia and New Zealand

Sydney, Australia — [November 24, 2025] — Stellar Storage Containers, a Division of Universal Storage Containers and a global leader in portable and relocatable storage solutions, has announced an exclusive partnership with Storco Storage Systems, one of Australia’s most respected names in self-storage design and construction. This new alliance will make Storco the exclusive distributor of Stellar’s relocatable storage containers in Australia and New Zealand.

For nearly 20 years, Stellar Storage Containers, a division of Universal Storage Containers, has led the way in the development of innovative, relocatable storage solutions that combine durability, flexibility, and aesthetics. The company’s products are used worldwide to help operators expand storage capacity rapidly and efficiently, with minimal site disruption. A leader in the portable storage industry, Stellar has been voted Best Portable Storage Container by Inside Self Storage for 15 years running—demonstrating the long-term reliability and performance that sets Stellar apart.

Storco Storage Systems, with over 40 years of proven excellence in the self-storage industry, brings unmatched expertise in storage facility design, project management, and customer service. The partnership unites two leaders in their respective fields to provide Australasian operators with a premium relocatable storage solution backed by decades of reliability and performance.

“This partnership represents a significant milestone for Stellar as we expand our footprint in Australia and New Zealand,” said Ned Johnson – CEO Stellar Storage Containers. “Storco’s 40 year track record and sterling reputation make them the perfect partner to represent our brand and support our customers in this region.”

Louis Funnell, Brand & Sales Manager at Storco, added: “Storco is excited to continue offering customer centric solutions; Stellar’s proven relocatable storage solution compliments our mission to contribute and evolve the Self Storage Ecosystem across ANZ – giving owners and operators new opportunity for growth and profitability.”

Shay McQuade, Regional Sales Manager at Stellar said, “This collaboration between key suppliers delivers experience, expertise and greater resources to best serve our combined Storage Industry customer base in this region”

Through this partnership, customers across the region will gain access to Stellar’s full line of relocatable storage products, along with Storco’s design, installation, and after-sales support, ensuring a seamless end-to-end experience. construction solutions, Storco continues to help operators achieve optimal performance through innovation and customer focus.

Media Contact:

Tiffany Angell

Director of Marketing
Stellar Storage Containers
Email:
Tiffany.a@stellarstoragecontainers.com
Phone: 303-378-7581
Website: stellarstoragecontainers.com
Address: 304 Meeting Street, Suite D,
Charleston, SC, 29401

Louis Funnell

Brand & Sales Manager
StorCo
Email: louis.funnell@storco.com.au
Phone: 61 448 784 802
Website: storco.com
Address: 298A Clergate Road
Orange NSW 2800
Australia

About Stellar Storage ContainersTM

Founded in 2006, Stellar Storage ContainersTM, a Division of Universal Storage Containers®, has been a pioneer in portable and relocatable storage solutions for nearly two decades. With over 500,000 containers deployed globally, Stellar's engineering expertise and commitment to excellence have set the standard for innovation and reliability across the storage industry. Learn more at: stellarstoragecontainers.com

About Storco Storage Systems

For over 40 years, Storco Storage Systems has set the standard for excellence in the self-storage industry across Australia. Known for its impeccable reputation and industry-leading design and construction solutions, Storco continues to help operators achieve optimal performance through innovation and customer focus.

